Siro nació en Chile en 1974, donde estudió Bellas Artes. Actualmente reside en España, donde ha desarrollado su carrera en las artes plásticas y el audiovisual. Su obra se ha presentado en diversas ferias internacionales de arte y creación de video, y ha participado en exposiciones tanto colectivas como individuales.

La obra de Siro es una exploración visual del misterio de “Lo Vivo” a través de lo orgánico. Es un diálogo constante entre el dibujo —una huella íntima, directa y cotidiana— la pintura y los medios audiovisuales. Mediante series que abordan temas como la génesis de la vida o la conservación de información, Siro construye un universo abstracto donde la línea define la forma y la forma se convierte en texturas que respiran.

Su obra refleja su curiosidad por los seres vivos, tanto desde su morfología, su capacidad de adaptación y transformación, hasta su fragilidad, fugacidad y sus aspectos trascendentes.

Con cada trazo, cada pincelada y cada material —a menudo elegido por su capacidad de evocar lo biológico— busca capturar la esencia de lo que nos constituye y nos trasciende. Mediante el uso de materiales que evocan sensaciones y texturas orgánicas, Siro pretende materializar estas ideas en composiciones llenas de movimiento, en un diálogo entre formas y espacio vacío, para ser experimentadas no sólo desde una perspectiva racional sino también desde una intuitiva, generando una curiosidad en el espectador que lo conecta con el misterio y la belleza de lo desconocido.

Siro was born in Chile in 1974, where he studied Fine Arts. He currently resides in Spain, where he has developed his career as a visual artist and filmmaker. His work has been presented at various international art and video art fairs, and he has participated in both group and solo exhibitions.

Siro's work is a visual exploration of the mystery of “The Living” through the organic. It is a constant dialogue between drawing—an intimate, direct, and everyday imprint—painting, and audiovisual media. Through series that address themes such as the genesis of life or the preservation of information, Siro constructs an abstract universe where line defines form, and form becomes textures that breathe.

His work reflects his curiosity about living beings, from their morphology, their capacity for adaptation and transformation, to their fragility, transience, and transcendent aspects. With each stroke, each brushstroke, and each material—often chosen for its ability to evoke the biological—he seeks to capture the essence of what constitutes us and transcends us. Through the use of materials that evoke organic sensations and textures, Siro aims to materialize these ideas in compositions full of movement, in a dialogue between forms and empty space, to be experienced not only from a rational perspective but also from an intuitive one, generating a curiosity in the viewer that connects them with the mystery and beauty of the unknown.
